Do you have an OR quirk? Funky socks are my thing. Don't have much to spice up things in sterile attire, so might as well rock some fun socks.

How do you unwind after a stressful day? I love hanging out with my family and spending time with our kids. We love hiking around beautiful Bozeman where we live.

If you could only eat one food for the rest of your life what would it be? Pizza...or chocolate

What is the most unique place you've traveled/visited? I have been fortunate to spend a few months in Nepal and was able to visit the Mustang region which continues to be one of the most remote regions of Nepal and a wonderful reflection of preserved Tibetan culture.

Who is your hero – in ophthalmology or personally? Ophthalmology/Personal: My two senior partners Vance Thompson, MD, and John Berdahl, MD. Both gave me a chance to build my dream practice and continue to this day to be work brothers, mentors, and friends who have helped guide my career. I also hold a special place in my heart for the late Alan Crandall, MD. He instilled in me during my time in Utah a desire for excellence in the care I provide patients balanced by a humility to remember that we are all human beings with a story to tell and a beautiful life to live.

What's your favorite movie? Princess Bride

Binge-Worthy ... Webinars!

Are you watching the YES Connect Webinars? These hour-long, binge-worthy webinars include YES members and experts discussing a variety of topics, like interviews, social media, mentorship, and more!

Watch the newest webinar and continuation of the “Good to Great Surgeon: Working Through Complications” series. In this session, moderator Beeran Meghpara, MD, is joined by faculty Michael Greenwood, MD, Kourtney Houser, MD, Arsham Sheybani, MD, and presenters and fellows, Brent Bruck, MD, Mike Izzo, MD, and Tina Xia, MD. Each fellow will present a difficult case followed by a panel discussion on what can be learned from each case.

Find all of the YES Connect webinars here.

Get Ready for National Sight Week

The ASCRS Foundation’s National Sight Week, October 9–15, will celebrate the sight-restoring work of volunteer surgeons and practices that participate in the Foundation’s Operation Sight program.

The 750 Operation Sight volunteers dedicated to making cataract care accessible in their local community have had an immeasurable impact for uninsured and financially vulnerable Americans and their families. Still, the need is profound.

Get involved by spreading the word about National Sight Week and Operation Sight within your program or practice and on social media.

You can also see if you’re eligible to volunteer! Volunteers will be featured on the 2022 Operation Sight Volunteer Recognition page, which celebrates the surgeons and practices providing sight in their communities year round!
